Misuse of funds seen in 2013 elections

THE AQUINO administration has tightened the release of pork barrel to senators and representatives to stem its misuse especially in the run-up to the campaign in next year's midterm elections, according to the Department of Budget.

The pork barrel, called the Priority Development Assistance Fund (PDAF), provides funding for the pet projects of congressmen and senators. It has been known to be a source of enrichment for certain legislators who receive kickbacks from private contractors building their projects.

Budget Secretary Florencio "Bambi" Alonzo said the administration had "fine-tuned" the list of eligible projects for the P34.99-billion PDAF allocation this year and the release process as part of efforts to prevent abuses in the use of the pork barrel.

"The House of Representatives and the Department of Budget and Management have agreed that only one realignment will be allowed. We foresee a lot of requests for changes as we approach [the] 2013 elections with regional political alignments and realignments taking place," said Alonzo in a text message. [A PDAF allocation is realigned when there is a change.]

The release of the pork barrel has been delayed because of requests by senators and representatives to change the projects they had submitted for funding. Senators even asked for special allowance release order (SARO) for

Maguindanao off tax collection goal by half, says COA

By Luis B. Salazar

MAGUINDANAO missed its tax collection goal for 2011 by more than half, and it needs to increase its tax collection efforts this year to get more funds for its operations, according to the Commission on Audit (COA).

The COA said, however, that Maguindanao is on the right track in developing projects for reducing poverty, building infrastructure, and improving education and health services by carrying out various projects. The COA said it hoped the province would improve the image of the province and the lives of its people.

One of the projects that the audit agency pointed to is a medical assistance program for the poorest of poor citizens. Under the program, 500,000 pesos have been allocated to health, which also receive technical support under the province's health to make offering, which will be given to the poorest citizens.

The COA said that Maguindanao's tax collection goal for 2011 was P5.5 million, but it only collected P2.5 million, or 45 percent of its goal. The COA said that the province's tax collection goal for 2012 is P6.5 million.

Maguindanao also received monthly federal aid from the national government to support its operations, which is given to local governments to provide maintenance and support for its operations.

Maguindanao also received monthly federal aid from the national government to support its operations, which is given to local governments to provide maintenance and support for its operations.

The COA recommended that the provincial government should develop additional efforts to increase its tax collection goal for 2012, and it should also focus on its operations.

The COA also found that the provincial government should focus on its operations.

Radiofrequency ablation and Radio-particle seed implantation technique has prolonged the survival rate of advanced cancer patients — targeting treatment for cancer cells

The novel advanced cancer patients who had undergone radiofrequency ablation, and other non-invasive treatments, is a very disappointing to find out that despite of all these, a lot of patients within the body still exist. But what is even more frustrating is the fact that patients can no longer undergo radiofrequency ablation and chemotherapy even more due to their own physical condition.

More than just the situation for cancer, "Radiofrequency ablation and Radio-particle seed implantation technique has prolonged the survival rate of advanced cancer patients — targeting treatment for cancer cells" is a very disappointing to find out that despite of all these, a lot of patients within the body still exist. But what is even more frustrating is the fact that patients can no longer undergo radiofrequency ablation and chemotherapy even more due to their own physical condition.

Radiofrequency ablation works based on the principle that cancer cells have poor thermal tolerance ability. Compared to normal tissue cells, cancer cells can be damaged with less heat. The cells of the cancer cells can be damaged with temperature above 42°C. The electrode needle is punctured into the tumor through the guidance of B-ultrasound and CT scan and with the aid of radiofrequency, the tumor is heated and destroyed. The temperature is immediately converted into thermal energy, thereby killing the tumor tissue. In addition, the radiofrequency treatment can also be used to destroy the tumor tissue, thereby killing the tumor tissue.

This treatment was used in the case of Mr. Paul Yano, a 55-year-old Japanese cancer patient, who didn't want to undergo chemotherapy. He had been in bed for a long time, and he was unable to move. He was diagnosed with advanced cancer. The doctor used the new radiofrequency ablation technique to treat the tumor. The tumor was destroyed, and the patient was able to move again. The patient was very happy and grateful to the doctor.

In Reading: Jesus said to the people, "Let those who have been crucified... When they heard this, they were deeply troubled. And they said to Peter and the other apostles, 'What shall we do, Lord?'"

Then answered: "Each of you must repent and be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ, and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. For the promise of God was made to you and your children, and to all those who believe in Christ now and for ever. With many other words he testified and urged them on, and they agreed to do everything he said. Then they returned to Jerusalem and stayed in the house where they were staying."

At the end of the day, the apostles gathered and discussed the matter. They decided to appoint a man to be in charge of the church. They chose Peter, and he became the first Pope. The apostles also decided to write a letter to the churches in Judea, telling them about the new teaching. The letter was written in the name of the apostles, and it was signed by Peter, James, and John.

Watson bags Masters after dramatic playoff

ALBUQUERQUE, Georgia... Bubba Watson captured a meteoric rise from pine straw to become only the third left-hander to win the Masters with an emotional playoff victory over Louis Oosthuizen at Augusta National Golf Club.

The American clinched his first major title with a two-putt par on the second extra hole, the par-four 16th, where South African Oosthuizen teed off, ending up just short of the green in two and failing to get up and down.

Both players had ended up well right of the tee, Oosthuizen gaining a firmness because of a tree before playing his second shot from the first cut of rough.

Although the long hitting Watson ended up deep in the tree line, he had an easier to the green and struck a superb high drive off the pine straw with a gap wedge for his ball to settle 10 feet from the pin.

After Oosthuizen had slipped up 31 feet past and narrowly missed his par putt on the hole, Watson had the history of two par-5 victory.

The little slingshot did just the job but the 33-year-old from Baywood in Florida gathered himself before teeing off on the 17th.

"I never get this far in my dreams," a very good Watson said in the locker before being helped into the second green jacket by last year's Masters champion Chad Johnson of South Africa.

"I got in there first, for a crazy shot, that I was in my head and sometimes I'm just talking to you with a green jacket on. It's a blessing," Watson added, after joining fellow left-hander Phil Mickelson (2005 and 2010) and Canadian Mike Weir (2003) as Masters winners.

"I had a good lie, had a pop where I had to back it 40 yards or something. I'm pretty good at looking it, so I just backed it up there and just knew it would shoot in the hole," Watson said of his exciting approach on the second playoff hole.

A left-handed golfer who learned the game by hitting with both hands, Watson, 33, became the eighth consecutive first-time winner of a major and the 11th in the last 12 championships played.

Oosthuizen, the 2010 British Open champion, had earlier grabbed a second hole-in-one with a stunning 18th hole-in-one on the 18th hole in the par-four second.

The duo had finished the 36-hole tournament on 19 under par 276. Oosthuizen ended a three-year 10 and Watson finished with a double eagle on the 18th hole in the 18th hole on the way to a 68.

THE CHAMP gets the green jacket from Watson's father Chad Johnson of South Africa.

BUBBA Watson and mother Holly share an emotional embrace after the American topped the Masters golf tournament.

Final round at a glance

ALBUQUERQUE, Georgia... Final round of the Masters at the 7,432 yard, par 72 Augusta National Golf Club.

Winner: Bubba Watson, who beat Louis Oosthuizen in a playoff.

How? Watson and Oosthuizen teed off on the first playoff hole, then Watson made par on the second on No. 17 after the South African made bogey.

How? Watson won $1.5 million and a green jacket for his first major championship win. Phil Mickelson made a triple bogey on the par 2 hole and ended up tying for third.

What's Next? Tiger Woods should 5 years for the tournament, but were showing even as a pro at the Masters.

What of the day No. 1: Oosthuizen led a 4-hole team 232 yards for a double eagle on the par-5 second hole to lead the leader the time.

What of the day No. 2: Watson carved a wedge out of the trees on the second playoff hole, leading to the green on his winning par.

Key note: Oosthuizen's double eagle was only the fourth in Masters history.

Interestingly: Mickelson made two triple bogeys on the 17th hole, and finished two shots out of the playoff.

Quoteworthy: "I've got a feeling, I've got a shot," said Watson on his last shot in the 18th hole.

Raps eyed vs firemen in Makati rally

Protesters wreck police car, flood police station with water from hoses

By Mike Monda

MAKATI Mayor Jejomar Erwin Binay has ordered the filing of charges against a group of five volunteers who trashed a police car and flooded a police station with water from their hoses to protest the death of one of their colleagues in a shootout with lawmen on April 1.

"While our emotions drive us to support their protests, we will not tolerate destruction of government property and acts of lawlessness," Binay said.

According to a police report, around 100 fire volunteers led by Marlon Samonte on board 20 fire trucks and a cleanup crew camped in the Makati Central Police Station on April 10. The volunteers in Makati City on April 1 targeted the death of Ronald Salinas, a fire volunteer, who was killed on April 1 near the South Superhighway.

Investigators said that Salinas spurred a shootout with police officers from the Makati Police District 3 after he and a companion tried to hijack a delivery van. The van drove to a nearby station, where the vehicle was the subject of a police raid, resulting in the shooting of Salinas.

During Thursday's protest, the volunteers opened their water hoses and released them on the police station in the same manner as last year's protest, Binay said.

Binay said that the volunteers should be charged with destruction of property and arson, but he said he would not press charges against them.

"I am, I already released the two officers involved in the shooting. He thanked me for that," he said.

"I thought after our protests, they would disperse peacefully. I did not know they were planning on going to District 3," Binay added.

At the police station on Thursday, the volunteers surrounded the building and started throwing water from their hoses on the windows.

They also trashed the water hoses on the police ground and a

Cops eye tiff between old, new guards in Aguirre case

By Michael R. Malina

NAS IT a clash between the old guard and the new replacement? The police are investigating whether a rift between the current and former senior guards of banker Albert "Biboy" Aguirre led to the shooting in the former in Las Pinas on Saturday in which three of his security personnel were killed.

Las Pinas police chief Justice Septo Rosendo-Segunda said that this would explain why the men who targeted Aguirre's apartment residential zone, pointed in the International Subdivision, Barangay GAA, targeted just the guards on duty—David Mangarao, Melvin Padua, a retired policeman, and P01 Lester Marasigan of the Police Security and Protection Group who was assigned as the banker's secretary—before reaching Aguirre.

AGUIRRE, the owner of two Mid-Peters Filipino Savings and Mortgage Bank, was at home at the time although he was not harmed by the gunmen.

"We got word of information that a group of people formerly employed as part of Aguirre's security detail, went to the banker's home, policemen, allegedly had a grudge against Biboy," Segunda said.

He also noted that there have been reports that the former guards had led to several other victims to fall. "This is one of the dangerous situations," he said.

Despite this development, the police said they were not discounting the possibility that the attack was directed at Aguirre.

"When I talked to him after the incident, he told me that he had experience but he did not expect to be killed. He just said, 'We just went to the case,'" Segunda said, noting that Aguirre was returning to the residential estate to receive a group of Filipinos which was also done last year by the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas as a security problem.

Segunda yesterday led a case conference with investigators. Despite this, he admitted that they still had no idea who the gunman's motive was.

"We looked at many angles but we still cannot identify the motive behind the attack. We will need other facts and further investigation. Hopefully after a day or two, we will have a clear picture of the incident," Segunda said.

Police investigator killed in front of 2 kids, relative

By Mike Calleja

A 42-YEAR-OLD policeman was shot dead by a man with a handgunned rifle around his face in front of the victim's children in Marikina City at 4 p.m. on Sunday.

SPO3 Buddy Maric, a member of the Quezon City Police District 20020 Station 1, died on the spot after he was shot through the head by the rifle of his son.

His two children aged 10 and 11 and a relative who were present in the back seat were injured, said police spokesman (SP3) Charles Pampalangan.

"It could be related to his work. He had taken over his job and sensitive cases," Pampalangan said.

Maric and his family were headed home after picking up a relative from the airport when they stopped to buy a public market at the corner of St. Martin and St. Paul streets in Marikina City. When he with children from the van to buy some food, the victim and his companions walked for him inside the vehicle. At this point, a man wearing a cap and a handgunned rifle aimed his face opened one of the van doors, then the policeman and companion in a money-bag being driven by a relative.

"One of the guards was shot and he died on the spot," Pampalangan said.

Police recovered an open shell from the van. A pistol from the crime scene.

BSP has room to cut rates to boost growth, BPI says

By David C. Skarbalius

BANGKOK Several top Filipino officials may want to consider adopting a "neutral" monetary stance in the second semester, according to reports from Bangkok of the Philippine Islands will.

In a commentary dated April 4, Emilio Neri Jr. of the IMF's Global Markets Department said that although head-line inflation had declined below the 30 percent target range, makers are used to continuous printing based on a limited participation for the rest of the year.

However, policymakers may realize that a 5 percent growth rate for the Philippines is not only unimpressive, vis-à-vis our Asian neighbors, but also well below the country's growth potential," he recently said.

The commentary was issued after last week's report that March inflation had further deteriorated to 2.6 percent—lower than the consensus of 3.5 percent, the February figure of 2.7 percent, and well below the Fed's full-year target of 3.5 percent for several months to come.

But one factor that may lead the IMF to reconsider its policy stance in the second half, the report said, would be the release of the first quarter 2012 GDP report by end May noting that this would provide a fairer picture of the true health of the domestic

"Because inflation prints for April and May would provide even more impetus to our policy rates as an insurance against an underwhelming growth performance for the (third) quarter," the report said.

"Besides the manageable inflation path, recent economic reports show continued improvements in the economy and new analysts who have been very pessimistic about the outlook for the Philippines are now raising their forecasts for full-year nominal growth to 5 percent."

At the same time, the report said, uncertainties remain about the country's growth and inflation rates, whether the Philippines can grow to its potential levels.

"Higher crude prices have led to an increase in local pump prices, public transportation costs, and plans to jack-up electricity prices. These (may) limit the ordinary citizen's spend-able-on-consumer bundle, and affect those that may jeopardize the country's industry sector," the report said.

French gov't joins digital TV discussion

By Victor E. Montealeme

FILIPINOS Embassy in Manila has joined the fray in trying to convince television industry stakeholders to adopt the European digital TV standard as the Philippines moves away from analog broadcasting technology.

The industry last month said it organized a Digital Video Broadcasting 2 (DVB) symposium for members of the National Telecommunications Commission body (nctb) with whom they have been digital standard like the Philippines.

In a statement, the French-Germany nature of the DVB 2 standard has Europe was technically superior to the integrated business Digital Broadcasting (IDB) standard from Japan.

The government is currently planning to review the two platforms.

Alfonso Flores, an expert from French bioethical regulatory body Comité Supérieur de l'Embryon, said the CRIS-2 method allowed for the generation of more data on a human zygote, and, moreover, that use the new technology in the IEEE 802 standard allowed for "wider" robustness, increased bandwidth and efficiency of the system" that are not possible with the IEEE standard.

While food input and overall activities in cattle involve, the EED standard is much smaller than in the world.

The use of digital broadcasting is seen to provide better image and sound quality as well as more channels for television stations. But users will also be able to send more data while using the broadcast of the radio frequency.

Rise in domestic demand to fuel GDP growth

By Russell W. Domingo

DOMESTIC demand is poised to push the growth of gross domestic product in 2012 as progress in public-private partnership (PPP) projects is expected to show impact on investments by the second semester.

In a research note, the JRS Group said domestic demand could get a boost from higher government spending, resilient private consumption and the expected increase in investments in contracts for big-ticket PPP projects get underway.

"Coupled with an accommodative monetary policy, domestic demand is projected to contribute 5.5 percentage points to headline growth this year," the Singapore-based group said.

Then, along with other positive

PPP projects to start showing positive impact

contributions to growth and counterbalanced by negative contributions, could result in a GDP expansion of 4.3 percent in 2012, as projected by JRS earlier this year.

The financial services provider, however, said a point export performance might drag the country's economic growth. Exports, it said, were expected to show a 1.4 percentage point fall from this year's GDP growth.

For the first semester of 2012, JRS said government spending should kick up "by several percentage points" as infrastructure continues to be developed.

"In most other cases, [a] surge in spending will be offset negatively," JRS said. "However, in the case of the Philippines, this is a welcome relief as it implies that the budget deficit would not have been as high as previously feared."

JRS added that with the budget deficit for 2012 set at 2.8 percent of GDP as opposed to the 3.2 percent recorded in 2011, expansionary fiscal policy (increase in government spending) is set to provide a boost in the coming quarters before government spending is projected to fall.

Earlier, JRS said it expected the Philippine GDP to grow by 4.3 percent this year on the assumption that the global external demand for the country's exports will start to stabilize by mid-2012, and government spending will be boosted.

It added that while the economy continued to be buffeted by external headwinds, the impact should not be as bad as the global financial crisis in 2009-2010.

"An expected acceleration in government spending in 2012 is a key reason why we see growth higher this year as compared to 2011," it said. "However, the steady-paced PPP projects should also play a part in boosting government spending this year."

PNOC-EC taking over CNG facilities of Shell in PH

By Amy S. Borne

PNOC INTERNATIONAL Corp., the upstream oil and coal arm of state-run Philippine National Oil Co., is set to finally take over the compressed natural gas (CNG) facilities of Shell Companies in the Philippines.

In a briefing last week, PNOC-EC chair Gen. Antonio Lopez Jr. said the company would sign memoranda of understanding of agreement that will allow it to enter the Shell Gas and Gas Utility Program for Public Transport (PGUPT) of the previous administration.

"PNOC-EC is really willing and depends on the lead to take the control of the program," Lopez said.

The three agreements to be signed on Wednesday according to Energy Undersecretary Joseph Lopez Jr. will be the transfer of PNOC-EC all the base unit of natural gas and daughter CNG stations in Batangas and Laguna, which are owned by Shell, assignment of gas sales contract with the Philippine Petroleum Co. (PPC) and the CNG stations, and the assignment with the company.

PNOC-EC plans to spread about P800 million to get up the additional CNG filling station in Batangas and another set of north and daughter CNG stations in Bataan.

Joseph Lopez Jr. said, PNOC-EC vice president for the business operations division, such as said the daughter filling CNG stations in Batangas would be transferred to PNOC-EC as part of the agreement was signed. The facility will take six months to build, he added.

PNOC-EC also targets to replace the technology being used by the existing mother and daughter stations.

The government acquisition of the CNG facilities was expected to arrive the failed seven-year natural gas for transport program of the previous administration and could forward the use of this alternative fuel through a different approach.

The government has long been pushing for the use of alternative fuels such as natural gas, as this can help address ongoing fuel prices in the long run, expected decreasing greenhouse gas and the burning various natural products such as climate change.

NOTICE TO ALL UNIT OWNERS, LESSEES AND BUYERS IN CAMP JOHN HAY

The Government, through the Bases Conversion and Development Authority (BCDA), wishes to inform unit owners of the Manor Hotel, Suites Hotel, Log Homes, Cottages and other properties in Camp John Hay, Baguio City, that:

- BCDA filed a criminal case for estafa (swindling) against Robert John Sobrepena and other officers of the Camp John Hay Development Corporation (CJHDevco) for the double sale of a Log Home in Camp John Hay.
- The property was given by CJHDevco as payment-in-kind to BCDA as part of the settlement of its debt which now totals 2.9 billion pesos. CJHDevco deliberately and fraudulently withheld from BCDA the fact that it had previously sold the property to another party.
- The Housing and Land Use Regulatory Board (HLURB) issued a notice of violation to CJHDevco after it discovered that the lessee has been selling and advertising CJH Suites units without securing the required permits.

BCDA has also received several reports of questionable business practices of CJHDevco and its affiliates including non-payment of owners' dividends from their leaseback arrangements, the delay in the turnover of units despite full payment of the owners, and entering into contracts with sub-lessees beyond CJHDevco's 25-year lease period.

Please be informed that the lease agreement between the government and CJHDevco is only for a period of 25 years, which would end on October 18, 2021, unless sooner terminated for cause. After which, all properties will be turned over to the government.

To protect the public against fraudulent schemes, BCDA is encouraging all unit owners, buyers and lessees to contact the following:

Phone number: +632 816-0990

Fax number: +632 816-0917

Email address: johnhay@bcda.gov.ph

Show proof of ownership or leasehold right, and supporting documents such as receipts, original copy of limited warranty deeds and others, in order to properly document all transactions concerning the properties within Camp John Hay.
